Assuming the stardate refers to when they were woken up from stasis, this means that they woke up on the 17th Aug 2372. The stasis lasted 17 days --> their original arrival would have been 30th July at the latest. Tuvok notes that it has been 6 weeks since Voyager left New Earth, before Kim and then Kes talk to him, but there is no stardate attached to that statement.

Sources of information

Stardates, Production # and Airdates

in black

- * Stardates, Production # and Airdates are from Voyager Transcripts from www.chakoteya.net/Voyager
- * Chakoteya.net sometime indicates a stardate at the beginning of the episode web page, which does not appear in the transcript. The source of such stardates is unknown.
- * Where the stardate in the transcript itself is not the same as the stardate indicated at the start of the web page, the transcript stardate is the one chosen.
- * Episode airing # are from Wikipedia

in red on yellow background

- * When Chakoteya.net indicate an unknown stardate, I have used this thread up to, but not including Basics, which (I think) got its info from Voyager UK VHS tape cases (date of issue unknown): <https://www.trekbbbs.com/threads/chronological-viewing-order-missing-ds9-voy-stardates-found.212584/>. Also from Tumblr posts from defconprime (<https://defconprime.tumblr.com/>)
- * Where the UK VHS stardate info comes from is unknown. I chose to follow the information from the DVD cases where in conflict.
- * The covers of the Chattaway Voyager Audio Logs (a compilation of the series soundtrack) can be found at <https://www.startreksoundtracks.com/voy/voy-lala-1.html>

Stardate converter

in black

- * Calendar dates using the stardate converter from <http://www.hillschmidt.de/gbr/sternenzeit.htm>

in red

- * Where chakoteya.net indicates an unknown stardate and I could not find any other info, I estimated the calendar dates by averaging between the previous and following known dates where possible. In other words, I made it up. Fight me on that one if you are game.

Dating the episodes

- * The star/calendar date does not automatically indicate the start of the episode. Resolutions and the two-parters in particular extend over a long period of time.

Inconsistencies

- * Specific inconsistencies in episode dates are mentioned in the Additional comments column.
